Calling all Artists!

Benderson Development is requesting qualifications from artists and creative teams for a commissioned art opportunity for the primary roundabout leading into Nathan Benderson Park and University Town Center in Sarasota, FL.

The Art Selection Committee would like to commission a 75-foot tall Signature Sculpture that is of the quality and stature that one would see at the Olympic games. The artwork should not depict any overt or obvious symbol of the Olympics but should - in a realistic, naturalistic or even abstract way - reflect, embody and convey movement and the power of enduring physical strength and health.

Nathan Benderson Park and University Town Center
Sarasota, Florida
Deadline to submit January 15, 2017
Budget: $500,000

Happy to inform that my Portrait titled "Feneshia 3" received SECOND PLACE AWARD at Venice Art Center, Altman-Vogt Solo Exhibition: Mini Show, Dec, 16, 2016.
Also, I have paintings at Art Center Sarasota and Art Center Manatee in each of the current juried shows.

The event is an opportunity for members to get their work out there and help a very worthy cause at the same time.

The Art of Caring: A Call for Donations of Art

Healthy Families Sarasota, a program of The Florida Center for Early Childhood, is committed to preventing child abuse and neglect in at-risk families in Sarasota County. Each year, approximately 450 families identified as having risk factors related to child abuse receive home visitation services. The program is part of the statewide Healthy Families Florida system with proven results. 100% of children in families who complete the program have no findings of child maltreatment within 12 months following completion.

Please join Healthy Families' mission by contributing your artwork for our event. The Art of Caring Silent Art Auction will take place on Friday, February 10, 2017 at the Southbay Clubhouse Ballroom. We request that all donations be submitted by January 20th.
